When life feels like a battle and it's raging like a storm.
I hold the water to your lips I keep you warm
I put my arms around you, you feel my love surround you
I won't ever leave you to the storm

Time will take its toll on your body and your soul but the bond we have it can't be cut or torn.
I will remain beside you, I kill the pain inside you
I will never leave you to the storm
'cause my embrace, I keep you warm..... I keep you warm See my face, through the eye of the storm and I won't ever leave you, and I won't ever deceive you,
Till the Angels receive you.

Through the eye of the storm.

Life comes and goes so quickly in its ever changing form then slips away, another child is born
And when the sound of thunder threatens to take you under Don't you ever, surrender to the storm.
'cause your embrace. Keeps me warm..... Keeps me warm.
See your face in the eye of the storm.
And I won't ever leave you I won't ever deceive you
Till the Angels receive you

Through the eye of the storm
